Q1. Our sourced helmets do not have "distinct sizes", just a regular and max (large) model, but are a universal fit that employs a micro-adjustable system to accommodate sizes S-XL. Is this acceptable?

A1. UF cannot accept a "universal fit" style helmet.

Q2. Our sourced helmets have a "trifix web splitter" system found in higher-end helmets that replaces the adjustable straps on both sides of the head, and moves all fit adjustments to a micro-adjustable dial on the back of the helmet. There is still an adjustable buckle under the chin. Is this acceptable?

A2. UF will consider this as an alternative to fully adjustable side straps.
