1.0 STATEMENT AND SCOPE OF WORK

1.1 Summary

The University of Florida (UF) is seeking proposals from vendors for UF's next generation of the Campus Building Network switches. The University of Florida has over 500 networked buildings that are part of a rolling refresh cycle of 5-7 years.

The Campus Building Network (CBN) at the University of Florida consists of layer 3 Building PoP (BPoP) switches and layer 2 Work Group (WG) edge switches. Please see the example diagram of the currently implemented CBN for the Black Hall building.

The current Layer 3 BPoP switches consists of two stacked Cisco 3850-12XS switches that each have a 10G single-mode fiber connection that are configured as active-active ECMP connections to distinct routers on the UF MPLS Core Backbone. The BPoP Switch provides aggregation of the Layer2 Workgroup switches, routing between multiple vlans within the building, and connectivity/routing to the core network for multiple VRFs. UFIT is currently in the process of extending MPLS VPNs into the CBN and converting from an OSPF VRF-Lite core connected design.

The Layer 2 WG switches consists of stacked Cisco 2960X-48 switches spread across multiple telco rooms within a building. The Layer 2 WG switches provide all edge access for devices such as computers, Cisco Voip phones, printers, access points, cameras, and other IoT devices. All edge devices connected to WG switches obtain access through Mac Authentication Bypass (MAB). When a registered device is connected to a switch and is authorized, the radius server sends the proper vlan and port specific ingress and egress filters to the WG switch.

The BPoP switches and the WG switches are interconnected on distinct switches with a Multi-Chassis LACP Etherchannel providing 20G of bandwidth over multi-mode fiber. This reduces spanning tree to a background process.

1.2 Scope of Work

The ITN will require a single switch vendor solution for both the Layer3 BPoP and Layer2 Workgroup switches. The vendor is to recommend hardware which should meet or exceed the specifications listed below. The proposal should also include design elements which demonstrate a highly available and redundant system.

As part of the evaluation process, the proposal should also include how the vendor will provide a testing facility for the equipment and features in the proposal. As part of the evaluation process, the selected preferred vendor will provide equipment for a Proof of Concept deployment in a UF building as part of the ITN process. The details of the POC deployment will be discussed in more detail later in the selection process.

Note:

- The BPoP switch must be able to participate in the currently deployed MPLS Core backbone.
- The ITN does not include the UF Core backbone and must not require any modification to the UF Core backbone or services.
- The switch solution must work with UFIT's currently deployed radius service.
- The switch solution must work with UFIT's currently deployed Cisco VOIP service, including E911 location services.

UFIT will evaluate all vendor responses which may include either onsite or video Conferencing discussions. Following initial evaluation, selected vendors will be required to provide switch equipment and any orchestration platforms for a full feature test environment on-site using UFIT’s Testcenter load generator and other testing tools. The testing environment will be required for at least 5 working days, exact times and duration will be discussed. Vendors can be either onsite or remote to assist with configuration and testing for the first two days.

UF intends to contract with an indefinite number of Vendors for a two (2) year Term with three (3) potential one-year renewals in order to accommodate both UFIT as well as any other Universities in the State University System that may purchase such devices during the Term.

UF estimates that it will utilize the following quantities of specific types of switches over the initial two-year timeframe. This ITN will in no way result in an obligation for UF or UFIT to buy a minimum quantity during the initial period.

Campus Building Network Switches
Item	Estimated Annual Quantity	Potential purchase through the two 2-year term with three 1 year renewals

BPOP Layer 3 Aggregation Switches	45	225
Workgroup Layer 2 Access Switches (48 Port)	305	1525

1.3 Term of Agreement

The term of this Agreement will be for an initial period of two (2) years, 10/1/2019 to 9/30/2021, with an option to renew based on satisfactory performance and the written approval of both parties for up to three (3) additional one (1) year periods. All pricing is for the initial two (2) year period and any increase shall not be greater than the lesser of 3% or the corresponding increase in the CPI for any of the additional three (3) one (1) year renewal periods. Pricing shall extend across all switches within the selected product families. Pricing should also apply to future switches available within the product line.

1.4 Coverage and Participation

The intended coverage of this ITN and any Agreement resulting from this solicitation shall be for the use of all Departments at the University of Florida. With the consent and agreement of the Successful Vendor, the other state universities, community colleges, district school boards, other educational institutions, and other governmental agencies, may assess and access an Agreement resulting from this solicitation issued and administered by the University of Florida.

The University reserves the right to add and/or delete elements, or to change any element of the coverage and participation at any time without prior notification and without any liability of any kind or amount.

1.5 University Demographics

The University of Florida is a major public land-grant research university. The state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive university, the University of Florida is among the nation's most academically diverse public universities. The University has a long history of established programs in international education, research, and service. It is one of only 17 public land-grant universities nationwide and the only university in Florida belonging to the Association of American Universities. With more than 50,000 students, the University of Florida is now one of the five largest universities in the nation.

The University of Florida has a 2,000-acre campus and more than 900 buildings (including 170 with classrooms and laboratories). The northeast corner of campus is listed as a historic district on the National Register of Historic Places.

Several qualities distinguish UF among today's leading public research universities. The first is its highly comprehensive breadth on a single campus, facilitating interdisciplinary collaboration among, for example, faculty within the adjacent colleges of journalism, engineering and medicine. The second is its unwavering support from the state of Florida, which has endorsed UF's drive to become one of the nation's very best public research universities – supporting those efforts since 2013 with hundreds of millions of dollars in additional funding to grow its faculty ranks. UF's third exceptional quality is its dynamism. Like the state of Florida, now the nation's third- largest and among its fastest-growing, UF is undergoing rapid transformation as it pursues its overarching aspiration "to be a premier university that the state, nation and world look to for leadership."

For any additional information about the University of Florida, please visit the University's web page at: www.ufl.edu.

2.0 EVALUATION PROCESS AND METHOD OF AWARD

2.1 Method of Award

The evaluation of each response to this ITN will be based on its overall competence, compliance, format, and organization. The Award shall be made to the responsive and responsible vendor whose proposal is determined to be the most advantageous to the University of Florida, taking into consideration the following evaluation criteria listed below. Pricing may be a criterion. However, the University is under no obligation whatsoever to select as most responsive the proposal that demonstrates the lowest pricing.

The contract will consist of the University's ITN, the proposal with any and all revisions, award letter, purchase order, and the signed agreement between the parties, as stated in that agreement.

Vendors whose proposals are not accepted will be notified after a final selection has been made by public posting of the selected proposer(s). This public posting functions as the rejection of all other proposals. This posting will be made to <https://procurement.ufl.edu/vendors/schedule-of-bids/>.

Evaluation Criteria

Vendor proposals will be evaluated based upon how well each Vendor's plans meet the University's needs. Specific consideration will be given to the following responses in no particular order or weighting:

1. Support of the above Technical Specifications (section 1.2.1) on Attachment B: All specifications will be judged on a true/false basis on support of a given feature and for the degree or scale that the given feature is supported. Specifications marked with a [1] above as well as layer 2 and layer 3 forwarding will be actively tested using industry standard testing equipment to measure the scale of support and performance. Full network builds in production/production-like conditions will also be used to judge feature support and stability.
2. Vendor Support: The vendor's ability to provide both hardware and software support will be critical to the success of this process. Vendor will be measured on:
 - a. Coverage and depth of technical assistance center. Please articulate the location, size and experience of the support organization which supports this line of products. Please confirm 24x7 support is available including problem re-creation.
 - b. .
 - c. Ability to provide a cost-effective spare/replacement program. All components should be replaced within 4 hours of failure through either a parts depot or on-site spares or both.
 - d. Software revision/release schedule. How often are major and minor releases provided? Does the Technical Support unit have the ability to issue engineering releases for critical items? Does the vendor support patches on the platforms rather than full release upgrades for critical issues?

3. Success in similar Higher Education environments & references: Please provide references where this type of equipment has been used successfully at other major Public or Private Universities. US News Top Public or Private Universities is a representation of peer institutions to the University of Florida.
4. Pricing and overall value: A combination of lowest cost and highest value will be evaluated. Total cost of ownership including maintenance costs will be taken into consideration. Evaluation also will be judged based on the future capabilities and predicted lifespan of the equipment.
5. Highly Redundant Design: As a system, the components must operate in a highly redundant mode during normal day to day operation and minimize downtime during maintenance periods. Ability to submit to a full feature test recommended equipment.
6. Compliance with UF Terms and Conditions
7. Proof of Concept Evaluation
8. Availability of Equipment

2.2 Selection, Negotiation, Additional Information

Although the University reserves the right to negotiate with any vendor or vendors to arrive at its final decision and/or to request additional information or clarification on any matter included in the proposal, it also reserves the right to select the most responsive vendor or vendors without further discussion, negotiation, or prior notice. The University may presume that any proposal is a best-and-final offer.

The University also reserves the right to award to the next highest evaluated, responsive and responsible bidder for any and all groups, subgroups, or items in the event of vendor default, non-performance, non-compliance or similar issues affecting the University's ability to obtain services at any time throughout the contract period.

2.3 Pre-Award Presentations

The University reserves the right to require presentation from any and all vendors, in which they may be asked to provide or they may provide information in addition to that provided in their proposals.

2.4 Pre-Award Negotiations

The University reserves the right to negotiate prior to award with vendors for purpose of addressing the matters set forth in the following list, which may not be exhaustive.

- Resolving minor difference and typographical errors
- Terms and conditions
- Clarifying necessary details and responsibilities
- Emphasizing important issues and points
- Receiving assurances from vendors
- Obtaining the lowest and best pricing and/or revenue agreement

2.5 Vendor Protest Procedure; Notice of Proposal Protest Bonding Requirement

Any vendor protest to a University decision or intended decision with regard to this ITN is subject to Florida Board of Governors' (BOG) Regulations 18.002 and 18.003. Any vendor who files an action protesting a decision or intended decision shall post at the time of the filing the formal written protest, a bond, payable to the University of Florida, in an amount equal to the lesser of 10% of the estimated value of the protestor's proposal or 10% of the University's estimated expenditure during the contract term, or $10,000. The bond shall be conditioned upon the payment of all costs which may be adjudged against the vendor. In lieu of a bond, the University will accept a cashier's check or money order in the amount of the bond.

2.6 Contractual Intent/Right to Terminate and Recommence ITN Process

The University intends to contract with one or more vendors whose proposal(s) are considered to be in the best interests of the University. However, the University may terminate this ITN process at any time up to notice of award, without prior notice, and without liability of any kind or amount. Further, the University reserves the right to commence one or more subsequent ITN processes seeking the same or similar products or services covered hereunder. In the event of cancellation or termination, the University reserves the right to award the contract to another Offeror, cancel in its entirety, or to request new proposals, whichever is in the best interest of University of Florida.

2.7 Effective Period of Proposals

Under this ITN, the University shall hold that vendors' responses to this ITN shall remain in effect for a period of ninety (90) days following the closing date, in order to allow time for evaluation, approval, and award of the contract. Any vendor who does not agree to this condition shall specifically communicate in its proposal such disagreement to the University, along with any proposed alternatives. This University may accept or reject such proposed alternatives without further notification or explanation.

2.8 Proposal Acceptance/Rejection

The University reserves the right to reject any or all proposals. Such rejection may be without prior notice and shall be without any liability of any kind or amount to the University. The University shall not accept any proposal that the University deems not to be in its best interests. The University shall reject proposals submitted after the closing date and time.

2.9 Errors and Omissions in Vendors Proposals

The University may accept or reject any vendor's proposal, in part or in its entirety, if such proposal contains errors, omissions, or other problematic information. The University may decide upon the materiality of such errors, omissions, or other problematic information.

2.10 Determination of and Information Concerning Vendor's Qualifications

The University reserves the right to determine whether a vendor has the ability, capacity, and resources necessary to perform in full any contract resulting from this ITN. The University may request from vendors information it deems necessary to evaluate such vendors' qualifications and capacities to deliver the products and/or services sought hereunder. The University may reject any vendor's proposal for which such information has been requested but which the vendor has not provided. Such information may include but is not limited to:

- Financial resources
- Personnel resources
- Physical resources
- Internal financial, operating, quality assurance, and other similar controls and policies

- Resumes of key executives, officers, and other personnel pertinent to the requirements of the ITN
- Customer references
- Disclosures of complaints or pending actions, legal or otherwise, against the vendor
- The University reserves the right to check references with current customers as provided by the vendor and with any customers the University identifies

2.11 Apparently Conflicting Information Obtained by Vendor

The University is under no obligation whatsoever to honor or observe any information that may apparently conflict with any provision herein, regardless of whether such information is obtained from any office, agent, or employee of the University. Such information shall not affect the vendor’s risks or obligations under a contract resulting from this ITN.

2.12 Rejection of Vendor Counter-offers, Stipulations and Other Exceptions

Any vendor exception, stipulation, counter-offer, requirement, and/or other alternative term or condition shall be considered rejected unless specifically accepted in writing by the University and thereafter incorporated into any contract resulting from this ITN.

2.13 Vendor’s Need to Use Proprietary Rights of the University

All information proprietary to the University and disclosed by the University to any vendor shall be held in confidence by the vendor and shall be used only for purposes of the vendor’s performance under any contract resulting from this ITN.

2.14 Public Record

On the earlier of (i) the time the University provides notice of a decision or intended decision, or (ii) 30 days after the final competitive sealed proposals are all opened, whichever occurs earlier, vendor proposals may be disclosed as public record.

It is the vendor's responsibility to assure that the proposal is delivered at the proper time and place of the proposal opening. Proposals which for any reason are not so delivered will not be considered. The University shall not accept proposals received by facsimile or email. The University shall, at the specified closing date and time, open all proposals that are otherwise in order. The University will allow interested parties to attend such opening for purposes of identifying which vendors have responded. The University will make no immediate decision at such time, and there will be no disclosure of any information contained in any proposal until the earlier of (i) the time University provides notice of a decision or intended decision, or (ii) 30 days after the final competitive sealed proposals are all opened, whichever occurs earlier, at which time the vendor proposals become public record. When multiple solicitations have been scheduled to open at the same date and time, the University will open solicitations that have interested individuals present in sequential order by solicitation number. The University will hold unopened any proposals received after the closing date and time, and will not consider such proposals. The University reserves the right to retain or dispose of such proposals at its discretion; however, the University may return such proposals to their related vendors, but only at such vendor's request and at no cost or expense whatsoever to the University.

If only one proposal is received, Procurement may delay the opening in order to determine why other vendors did not respond and to encourage other vendors to respond.

Company negotiators must enter the negotiations prepared to speak on behalf of the vendor's company. The University reserves the right to immediately terminate negotiations with any company whose representatives are not empowered to, or who will not, make decisions during the negotiation session. Vendors are reminded that the University may elect not to solicit a best and final offer from any company whose representative(s) have been unable or unwilling to commit to decisions reached during the verbal negotiation process.

In the event the University grants such a request, it may withhold issuing future ITN's to such vendors.

4.2.18 University's Right to Use Vendor's Ideas/Proprietary Information

If the vendor needs to submit proprietary information with the proposal, the vendor shall ensure that it is enclosed in a separate envelope from the proposal and that it is clearly designated and conspicuously labeled as such. Vendors who submit responses with information noted as proprietary may be asked to substantiate why the information is proprietary or is otherwise exempt from a public records request under Florida Law.

Selection or rejection of the proposal shall not affect the University's right of use. Provided, however, that the University will, in good faith, honor any vendor information that is clearly designated and conspicuously labeled as proprietary when the University concurs that the information is proprietary, and that trade secrets or other proprietary data contained in the proposal documents shall be maintained as confidential in accordance with procedures promulgated by the Procurement Staff and subject to limitations in Florida or Federal law. Pricing information cannot be considered proprietary. The University shall not be liable in any manner or in any amount for disclosing proprietary information if such information is not clearly so designated and conspicuously so labeled. The University shall likewise not be liable if it did not know or could not have reasonably known that such information was proprietary.

Should a request be made of the University for access to the information designated confidential or trade secret by the bidder and, on the basis of that designation, the University denies the request, the bidder may be responsible for all legal costs necessary to defend such action if the denial is challenged in a court of law.
